Review of some of the concepts we have talked about

Intention:

Intentions are more about the present and the here and now, about how we show up in the moment. They're about who we want to be, what we're passionate about, what gives us joy.

Intuition

Your first instinct is that the vehicle for communication is intuition. This intuition is a product of synchronicity. It is a very real way of God, the Universe, Source, communicates with humanity. Humans don't like it because it appears as though the thought comes from themselves not from God. After all they've waited for an answer from God, not themselves.

Synchronicity

Synchronicity is defined as energies that align with purpose. These situations look like accidents, but they are not. Listen. This is the key. You have heard there are no accidents, but there are those outside of your belief system who say, "That's crazy. That's not right." Synchronicity looks and appears like coincidence. It often looks like an accident, but it is not. It is you at the right time, at the right place, with the potentials aligned that you asked for.

Invoke

- a. to call forth or up
- b. to bring to mind or recollection this place evokes memories.
- c. to petition for help or support
- d. to appeal to or cite as authority
- e. to make an earnest request for
- f. to put into effect or operation

Meditation

This meditation is to allow us to acknowledge and deal with the grief that we may feel after cutting the cords with some people last week or may be dealing with the grief of a marriage ending, loss or changing of a job, or the death of a loved one.

Homework

- Talk to Azrael about the grief that you may be feeling. He is your friend.
- Spend some time connecting with loved ones who have transitioned.
- Listen with an open heart to what they may wish to convey. Talk to them openly and thank them for coming near to you.
